Summer Mission Opportunities

Greetings! We want to share with you about 3 of our girls and their summer experiences. Blessings! Carey & Andrea

"I spent 9 weeks of my summer in Juneau, Alaska with 23 other college students! The purpose of the mission was to have spiritual conversations in our workplaces, as well as form intentional relationships with the locals of Juneau through our many events each week.

The women of the project specifically focused on studying Biblical womanhood, and through that, I learned that Biblical womanhood is a beautiful, purposeful, and a consistent part of God's plan for the world!

My summer gave me many opportunities to trust in the Lord, step out in faith, and know and love Him and others in a deeper way. I realized that God knows me better than I know myself, and because of that, I can move forward in any circumstance, trusting that He knows exactly what I need.

This summer was what I needed, and while I didn't know that the Lord definitely did!" - Gracie - age 22

"I was very blessed this summer to attend a two-week worldview and leadership camp for high schoolers called Immersion located in Pine Mountain, Georgia. During these two weeks, I heard lectures on topics from very knowledgeable speakers like Jonathan Morrow, Sean McDowell, and Brett Kunkle.

One of the camp focus was for us to be completely immersed in a Christian community while learning about different worldviews, so that we could be better equipped to spread the Gospel. I was also able to experience this with other Christian high schoolers like Rebekah Ruth, (shown below), who was one of my closest friends that I made at Immersion.

God gave me the opportunity to learn that Christianity is not only about believing with faith but there is evidence and good moral reason to believe that it is true."

Emma - age 18

"I went on an 8-week summer mission trip to Branson, MO this past summer, and it was such an amazing experience!! The purpose was to grow in intentionality and community with others, and have a greater understanding of God.

I worked full-time at my summer job so that I was able to build relationships with my coworkers. Friendship and trust, opened many doors to spiritual conversations. When I was not working, I learned how to write my testimony, lead a Bible study, spend intentional time reflecting on God and what He's done, be intentional with whoever God has put in front of me, and share the Gospel.

But most of all, I grew in personal surrender to the Lord. I'm blown away by God's character and who He is. God worked in Branson, MO this summer, and I'm beyond grateful I could be a part of it!!" Katie - age 20
